PROFILE

I am a frontend web developer and graphic designer. I create accessible, user-friendly applications using my knowledge of HTML, CSS, JavaScript and Adobe Creative Cloud. I love finding opportunities for personal and professional growth and I enjoy sharing my knowledge with others. My experience in retail management has given me many transferable skills such as communication, adaptability, problem solving and critical thinking. My customer service experience has also put me in a better position to really understand user needs to create exceptional user experiences.

PROJECTS
